WELCOME WARMTH AND SUNSHINE

Day of Vernal Temperature Brings Thaw, But With It Slushy Streets.

RELIEF WORK IS LIGHTENED

Fewer Calls on Charitable Associations-Many Church-Goers Out.

Richmond enjoyed a fine spring day yesterday, the midwinter sunshine doing good service in removing the slush from the streets and sidewalks. The Sunday morning parade on Franklin started out bravely, leaving behind, but the Lee District crossings and the sidewalks on Monu ment Avenue made it necessary to shorten the walk. Apparently, no ef-shorten the walk. Apparently, no effort was being made to keep the culverts open and the meiting slush jammed several, causing small lakes about the corners. Toward evening the sky clouded over somewhat, and the weather continues warm.

The warm, bright day brought out large congregations at the Richmond churches yesterday, in spite of the slush underfoot. In the nearby country, however, the roads are almost impassable, and in many country congregations the services have been suspended until the dirt roads dry out.

Rev. James Buchanan, of the Citizens' Relief Association, preached twice yesterday at the East End Baptist Church, which he has been supplying for some weeks during a vacancy in the pastor-

Mr. Buchanan reported that there had been vary few special calls for assistance at the association building yesterday, as his workers had the situation well in hand and had anticipated all ordinary contingencies. Having the district visitors in all parts of the city, only extreme or unusual cases as a rule come to the office, as all propie cases of poor families or sick people in distress are known and accounted for.

Free Beds All Filled.

At the Methodist Institute the number of men housed is constantly up to the capacity of the house, the seventy-five beds being always occupied, while on some nights of last week a number of men slept on benches in the chapel. Rev. A. B. Sharpe, superintendent, is holding service at the mission every night, and reports a good attendance of the men of the neighborhood.

All the institutions have on their rolls sick and old people who have to be constantly assisted, so that even in mild weather there is constant call on their resources.

The conditions in Richmond this winter, however, are such that no able man, woman or child need by hungry, as there is an abundance of employment for all. There is, therefore, little excuse for street begging under present conditions.

at Soldiers' Home.

Rev. Dr. George W. McDaniel, pastor of the First Baptist Church, conducted the regular Sunday afternoon service at the Lee Camp Soldiers' Home yesterday afternoon, preaching to a large assemblage of the veterans and many persons from without the Home. Dr. McDaniel preached a most impressive sermon on the theme, "Prepare to Meet God," and was given close attention by the large audience. After the service, two veterans residing at the Home, made professions of conversion. One of the features of the service was the music, two ladies contributing vocal solos, in addition to the excellent Dr. McDaniel will leave to-day for Ocala, Fla., whither he goes to conduct a revival service. He will be gone ten days.

It was the unlucky number which brought ill-luck to thirteen negroes who were caught playing "skin" in a joint at No. $15 Shooks Alley, run by Richard Smith.

Officers Redford, Amos and Toler get wind that the game was in pregress early yesterday morning, and the three of them decided to o things. The officers crept up to the house in the darkness of the early morn, and heard from within the triumphant or auxious exclamations, as the case might be, denoting that some one had made a few pennies while another was mourning his loss. The lock was picked by one of the officers, who evidently has missed his calling, and entrance was gained without the slightest noise.

The rest was easy. The officers walked in on the crowd, and arrested every man-jack of them while they were in the midst of a game. The unlucky thirteen will pay the piper this merning.
